Ric Seaver

Vice Chair

Ric Seaver is the Vice Chair of the Arthritis Foundation's Indiana Chapter. He has served on the board since 2006, most recently as the assistant treasurer. In addition to his Board position, he also sits on the Executive, Finance, and Investment Committees. Ric's wife, Stephanie, has rheumatoid arthritis and is a driving force behind his involvement and passion for the cause.

“This disease robs individuals and families from leading happy, healthy lives. Imagine constant pain. Imagine someone you love – your wife, husband, son, or daughter, living with that pain daily, and there is nothing you can do about it. That's exactly what's happening to 46 million Americans, including children.” Ric says through his involvement with the Foundation, he has been happy to meet so many people who are committed to eradicating arthritis and related diseases, and who work every day towards a cure.

Ric is currently a Financial Advisor with Valeo Financial Advisors, LLC. He lives in Carmel with his wife and two sons, Griffin and Graham. His favorite Arthritis Foundation event is the Jingle Bell Run because, “I enjoy running, and no one else is crazy enough to hold a competitive run outdoors in December in Indiana.” Ric also enjoys spending time with his family, swimming, cycling, and reading.
